

SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY PRACTICUM: FINAL SELF-ASSESSMENT
SPRING 2016

Context

This survey is part of the set of surveys administered at key transitions points in the school psychology program. This survey was administered to the 25 members of the Spring 2016 school psychology cohort.

Survey Content

- Information about the clinic placement
- Professional characteristics
- General comments/feedback on the student's performance

Methodology

The survey was administered using Qualtrics, an online survey tool. An email invitation was distributed to all of the School Psychology students participating in practicums. The data collection period was during April of 2016. A total of 25* surveys were completed (response rate = 25/25 = 90%). All references to individuals/placement sites have been omitted to maintain anonymity.

The data are used for two types of reports.

- Individual-level report. This report was distributed to the individual student, the clinic teacher, the seminar leader, and the faculty advisor.
- Program-level report. This report, which contains aggregate data, was delivered to the academic program.
 - Disaggregated results are not reported across campuses, due to no or too few students enrolled in this focus area at the campus.

Key Findings

- Across 83 professional standards, the interns rated themselves an average of 4.04 out of a possible 5 points.
- Across 15 knowledge and skill characteristics, the interns rated their practicum site supervisors an average of 4.68 out of a possible 5 points.
- The interns indicated that the majority of their time at the practicum was spent on activities related to assessment and evaluation. Beyond that, they spent the second greatest amount of time on activities related to consultation, collaboration, and developing, implementing, and evaluating direct services that promote students' social, emotional, and behavioral health and well-being.
- Qualitative comments provided by the students indicated a high level of satisfaction with both their practicum supervisors and the overall practicum experience. Several students remarked that they would recommend this program to others.

* One student had two separate sites/supervisors and so submitted two surveys.

Performance Areas

For each of the students, the following scale will be used to evaluate the teaching candidate:

1	Inadequate Competence	Intern demonstrates competence below the level expected of an intern in this area. Student does not demonstrate skill in this area or demonstrates skill at a very basic level and requires close supervision and/or direct supervised assistance.
2	Minimal Competence	Intern demonstrates competence and is effective in all aspects of the skill with on-going supervision. Direct supervised assistance rarely needed. (Expected competence level for beginning pre-service intern.)
3	Developing Professional Competence	Intern demonstrates competence and can effectively perform all the aspects of the skill in this area with regular, on-going supervision, but no direct supervised assistance.
4	Adequate Initial Professional Competence	Intern demonstrates competence and can effectively perform all the aspects of the skill in this area with occasional supervision/consultation.
5	Professional Competence	Intern demonstrates competence and can effectively perform all aspects of the skill area independently without supervision.
NO	Not Observed	Skill not observed/ insufficient data to make rating at this time
